

Empowering Each and Every Member

The landscape of our IT industry has changed. With the baby boomer retirement and the fierce global competition, a redefining of the IT professional is inevitable.

To remain competitive as an IT professional, it is imperative that you have access to quality resources that provide life-long learning to develop your business skills, keep you abreast of technology changes, and a professional network to tap into for fellowship and mentoring.

Since 1951, the Association of Information Technology Professionals (AITP) has been a continuing resource for quality professional development. Serving the IT industry as a national organization and through our local chapters, AITP is committed to delivering to our members the recognition, support, and credibility that will give them the competitive edge needed to succeed.

By joining AITP, you become part of a strong network of IT professionals, have access to empowering resources and opportunities, and are positioned to stay connected.

We invite you to join us.

We can help YOU achieve YOUR information technology goals.

Who We Are

AITP provides a local, regional, and national forum for obtaining information about the field of information technology, learning about educational and career opportunities, developing technology and business skills, and staying connected with other professionals who have similar interests.

Founded in 1951, our organization evolved as the industry evolved. We have led the industry from establishing the first Certificate in Data Processing (CDP) professional examination program, to the creation of the Registered Business Programmer (RBP) examination, to helping establish the Institute for the Certification of Computer Professionals (ICCP), to the creation of the Distinguished Information Sciences Award.

Today, we have 7,000 members in 140 professional and 250 student chapters. Our commitment to education is supported through our educational foundation, special interest groups, and certification programs.

We understand the evolution and direction of the industry and the needs of its professionals. AITP is committed to ensuring that our members remain the global experts of IT innovation.

Our Affiliates

AITP recognizes that establishing strategic alliances with leading companies in the IT industry provides significant resources and benefits to our membership.

Our Affiliates Program provides:

Local Chapters

The core of the AITP experience, our local chapters offer technical, leadership, and managerial educational programs and workshops as well as opportunities for personal networking.

Web Portal

Members obtain valuable information through the AITP Portal such as technology trends, industry publications, research papers, discussion forums, and job postings. Our online newsletter, Information Executive, keeps members abreast of AITP happenings. The Portal is also an ideal resource for job recruitment, career enhancement, and new business development.

Affiliate Programs

Partner affiliates play an important role in expanding the IT profession by providing benefits and contributing financially. Education affiliates offer advancement of the knowledge and skills of IT professionals by providing technical IT certification training and business related courses. Vendor affiliates offer discounted services such as educational training, group insurance, magazine subscriptions, financial services, and shipping services.

Advocacy

AITP serves as an effective voice through legislation advocacy, professional behavior guidelines, and professional certification. AITP is a founder and one of the constituent societies of the Institute for Certification of Computing Professionals (ICCP). Our long-standing Code of Ethics serves as a model for the industry.
